

Family of William (son of Joseph & Mary) WALTON

First Generation

1. William (son of Joseph & Mary) WALTON¹ was born 11 Feb 1754 in Prince Edward County, VA. He died 1 Aug 1818 in Columbia County, GA and was buried in Walton Family Cemetery, Columbia County, GA.

Notes from Mrs. Elizabeth Lamkin Johnson:

"GRANT OF LAND: King George IV of England gave a grant to William WALTON, Revolutionary War soldier. (Ella Gertrude Walton Lamkin's home place was located on this grant, in Columbia County, 20 acres. In 1993, the only part we still own of this land grant from the king is the 7 1/2 acres of the home place across Little Kiokee Creek on the Old Washington Road. (These 7 1/2 acres join Elizabeth Benton Lamkin Johnson's property. This home place, "The Oaks" [plantation] from her mother, Daisy Elizabeth Lamkin) and the 7 1/2 acres owned by Robert Walton LAMKIN, Jr., deceased, and now belonging to his heirs (his children)."

"Most of the bounty land was sold to General Robert E. WOOD, President of Sears, Roebuck & Company." (Mrs. Lamkin provided a hand drawn map detailing the lay out of these lands.)

"William Walton, our great-great grandfather, was a member of the Continental Congress.

"In late July 1818, William WALTON was coming home through a section known as Deer Park when he was attacked by a big stag. He was seriously injured, but managed to drag himself home. He finally died from these wounds on August 1, 1818. He was buried in the Walton Cemetery on the land he owned and settled.

"The rock wall of the cemetery was built by slaves in the early 1800's. Four generations of WALTON's are buried in this cemetery."

"The Walton Cemetery is on Washington Road next to Cumberland subdivision (right hand side as you go toward the turn off for going home, or toward Clark Hill) and across Washington Road from Windmill Plantation. There are four generations buried in the WALTON Cemetery. Many Walton families are buried here from William Walton - Jesse Sims Walton, on through some of his children and grandchildren. It is impossible for me to list all who are buried here, so I'm showing our children how many (NOT naming all of these generations that are buried there!).

Generation One: William Walton and Sarah Grinnage Walton

Generation Two: Jesse Sims Walton and Palatine Ellis Jones Walton

Generation Three: George Tatrall Walton and Alice Isabella McLean Walton, and their daughter, Maggie Walton. Lucilious Diogenes Walton and Jane Catherine McLean Walton. Ellis Jones Walton and Mary Amelia "Molly" McLean Walton.

Generation Four: Bowdre Lamkin, died as an infant. Son of Ella Gertrude Walton Lamkin and James Alexander Lamkin. Turner Clanton Lamkin, born May 1, 1887, died July 1904, son of Ella Gertrude "Munna" Walton Lamkin and James Alexander Lamkin. (These 2 graves are marked only by rocks, and are located toward the back right side of the cemetery as one would face the entrance to the cemetery.)"

The Walton/Lamkin Bible states he was born 11th day of February 1754.

I found a tidbit where the property was deeded over to preserve the graveyard of William Walton. Obviously there were burials there prior to 1792. (From "annh" via Internet posting - 2005)

Feb. 26th 1792. WILLIAM APPLING sells to the Commissioners of the Courthouse, for five shillings, for use as a

Courthouse and Gaol, five acres laid out of my premises by WILLIAM WALTON, Esquire, excepting a graveyard not exceeding 1/4 acre to be laid off square including the graves appertaining to said yard.

Same date (1792). WILLIAM APPLING to the Trustees of the Anabaptist Church, on the Kiokee, for five shillings, five acres to be laid out of my premises part of a tract granted to JOSEPH WOOD, Aug. 2, 1774.

In 1794, land adjoining William WALTON in Wilkes County, sold.

November 29, 1794 Thomas HAYNES and WILLIAM WALTON are executors of the estate of the lat Col. Peter Stubblefield, Columbia County, GA.

November 11, 1797 'SHERIFF'S SALES. On the Tuesday in December next, at the court-house in the County of Columbia, at the usual hours.... WILL BE SOLD: The following property: 544 acres of land, whereon Colonel Peter Stubblefield, deceased, lived, joining lands of WILLIAM WALTON and John GARNETT; 250 acres whereon Peter Stubblefield now lives, Savannah River...".(portions not transcribed).

1797, Sarah Walton, wife of William Walton, sold land in Columbia County, GA, September 17, 1797.

June 28, 1798. "Georgia, In the Superior Court, Columbia County, June Term, 1798} A bill was presented on the equity side of this court, in behalf of James Cartledge, praying to have the testimony of John Germany, Sen., an aged and infirm witness, taken and perpetuated; and on motion of Mr. Walker, solicitor for the complainant. It is ordered and decreed, that Peter Crawford, Thomas M____, Joshua GRINAGE and WILLIAM WALTON, Esqrs, or any two of them, are hereby appointed commissioners to examine the said John Germany, Esq. On such interrogatories as may be exhibited by and in behalf of the said complainant....(portions not quoted). "Taken from the minutes, Peter Crawford, Clerk. June 28, 1798."

1799, 'WILL BE SOLD.....544 acres of land, whereupon Colonel Peter Stubblefield, dec., lived, joining lands of WILLIAM WALTON and John Garnett; (portions not transcribed) 30 acres, more or less, Columbia County, whereon JEREMIAH LAMKIN now lives, taken by execution on the property of said Lamkin as in the above recited cases."

October 6, 1804: "VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE. The subscriber will sell at private sale, eighteen hundred and twenty-four acres of his land, in Columbia county, and all adjoining, and laid off in the following lots:

- No.1: A tract containing 400 acres, adjoining Wm. Low and WM. WALTON
- No.2: Containing 500 acres, whereon is that valuable and well known plantation, called "Shady Grove."
- No. 3: Containing 478 acres, adjoining Thomas Cumming and Thos. Moore.
- No. 4: 446 acres, adjoining Thomas Cumming, upon three sides,. This tract will be sold with the encumbrance of five years lease, to Philip Clayton, Esq. (portions not transcribed)....

"Plats of the above tracts of land and the premises, may be seen by applying to Mr. WILLIAM WALTON, and the terms made known by the subscriber at his Mills on Little River. J. GRINAGE."

March 16, 1806. "The Noted JACK ASS, called the Bourbon, Seven years old last grass, nearly thirteen hands high, very thick feet of his height, and has proved himself to be a fare foal getter. Will hand at my stable in Columbia County, on the Petersburg road, about sixteen miles above Augusta, near WILLIAM WALTON'S TAVERN, and four miles from Middleton's ferry, and will be let to mares at eight dollars the season, paid by the first of December next, or may be discharged by paying $6.00 in hand, (at the time the mare in put to said Jack) or $4.00 the single leap, or $10.00 to insure. If insured to be paid whenever the mare is discovered to be with foal. Said Jack was sired by the noted Jack, Royal Standard, and was imported from Spain in 1792, and owned band kept by Capt. Stephen Clark, of Connecticut, New England, and his offspring has been proved to be the best ever sired in America. Pasturage for mares free, but not answerable for accidents. THOMAS MOORE, JR."

WILL OF WILLIAM WALTON:

WALTON, William (Rev. Soldier) s/Apr 1 1818 p/Mar 22 1819 Heirs, beloved wife Sarah (Grinage). Daughters

Blanchy Woods and Frances George Walton. Sons, William Fairfax Walton and Jesse Simms Walton. Exr. none named. Witness: Martha Cleghorn, Benjamin Berry, Peter Crawford, Anderson Cummings

WALTON CEMETERY, Columbia County, GA:

July, 2004. Katie DeLaigle, in Augusta, GA, was sweet enough to go out on a hot summer early-evening and take photographs of the WALTON cemetery, on Washington Road, in Columbia County, GA! Here is her email about the cemetery:

"I drove up to Lake Cumberland at 8:00 pm and found the cemetery. The wall is obviously made from hand gathered stones.....the land all around this property is being presently developed (Riverwood Plantation).....

"The first marker says W. T. Walton.....born Nov. 9, 1836.....you cannot make out the date of death..... the stone is so weathered and stained.

The second larger marker with "WALTON" on the top of the grave stone.....says

Father: Jesse Sims Walton	Mother: Palatiah Ellis (wife of Jesse)
born Aug 7, 1801	born Sep 19, 1816
died Aug 10, 1866	died Nov 1, 1890

Of course the most important marker is :

REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER
WILLIAM WALTON
1754 - 1818

Placed by the Tampa Fl. Chapter of D. A. R.

The broken grave stone has no markings that I could make out.

This is a quaint old family cemetery.....old cedar trees and Georgia pines.....hand laid stone and I got a good feeling about it. It did not feel dreary or spooky in any way.....It, of course, has been neglected. William Walton's grave is outlined with the stone and is somewhat "sunken" into the earth."

According to Columbia County tax records, also found by Katie DeLaigle, Marion C. & Oliver OWENS are the current (2004) owners of the cemetery.

(Note: In "History of the Georgia Militia" Vol. 1, page 94: there was a William Walton, commissioned 2nd LT, First Regiment Georgia State Troops, in 1788.

William married¹ Sarah GRINAGE¹ on 22 Dec 1792 in Columbia County, GA. Sarah died² 30 Oct 1833 in Columbia County, GA.

The following notes are from Mrs. Elizabeth Lamkin Johnson:

"In some records, her last name is spelled with one "n", in others it is spelled with two."

"Records in Prince Edward County, Virginia: William WALTON and Sarah GRINNAGE were natives of Virginia; they migrated to Georgia in 1790 and settled in Columbia County, where he 'prosperously planted all of his life' (* "Memoirs of Georgia, Vol I)..... He was a soldier in the patriot army during the Revolutionary War, and for his services drew some land in Kentucky. To pay the taxes on this, he was accustomed to go there every year on horseback. He was surveyor of Columbia County and held the office for many years."

Ann, I transcribed this as it is such an excellent recap of some of the estate of Isaac RAMSEY. He was neighbor to the Lamkin's, Walton's, Harriss's, Clanton's (who married w/Lamkin's), etc. Ginga

Augusta Chronicle, May 1860: Sale of Real Estate of the estate of ISAAC RAMSEY of Appling, Columbia County (GA).....to be sold in "December next"...(all acreage +/-). "In pursuance of the last will of Isaac RAMSEY, late of said county, the real estate belonging to said deceased's estate not otherwise devised, as follows:
....."That valuable tract of land known as the "Shady Grove" Plantation, in the county of Columbia, on the waters of the Uchee and Kiokee Creeks, adjoining lands of Clanton, Walton, Lamkin, and others, containing 1400 acres – 800 of which are in a high state of cultivation; improvements are a two story frame dwelling (which with some repairs could be made a very desirable residence) with kitchen, large and commodious smoke house, nearly new and never falling well of pure water in the yard; Negro cabins; gin house and screw; blacksmith shop; barns; stabling and other suitable out buildings for a well ordered plantation, and lying within 14 miles of the city of Augusta.
....."ALSO, the Plantation known as the "Kiokee Plantation on the waters of Kiokee Creek, adjoining lands of Mrs. E.L. Lamkin, Knox and others, containing about 1000 acres, about 500 of which is cleared and in cultivation, the balance timbered with oak, hickory, and pine. The improvements are a two story dwelling, with Negro cabins, gin house and screw, good barns, seabling, etc. There is also upon this Plantation, a tan yard of 37 vats, besides leaches, pools, etc. currying shop, bark shed recently built, and all other necessary appurtenances for carrying on the business. It has a Shoe Shop, and also a house for the superintendent to reside in, should anyone desire to carry on the business of tanning and shoe making, and is, without exception, one of the best stands in the Southern country. It has been established about 15 years, and does from $700 to $9000. It is within 16 miles of Augusta, in a healthy country, and society unexceptionable.
....."ALSO,...the Plantation known as the "Dawson Place", lying on both sides of Green Briar Creek, adjoining lands of Crawford, Hamilton, Lamkin and Harriss, containing 800 acres, 500 of which are in cultivation, the balance in woods and old field pines, abundant to keep it for years. The improvements consist of a Cottage house, cabins, new gin house and screw, good barns, cribs, and other necessary out buildings. There is a fine well of water on the place. This is one of the most productive cotton plantations in Middle Georgia, and is also well adapted to grain. It lies within one mile of Columbia Court House, and 21 of Augusta.
....."The above described lands are among the most fertile in Middle Georgia, a great portion being creek bottoms, and are well adapted to the culture of corn and cotton, and health and society are unsurpassed by any location on the globe.
....."ALSO, a tract of land, heavily timbered, lying on the south side of the Georgia Railroad, about 3 miles from Dearing, adjoining lands of Harriss, Hall, Evans and others, containing 475 acres, and known as Lot No 2 in Columbia County.
....."ALSO,a tract of heavily timbered pine land, lying on the Georgia Railroad, containing 111 acres, known as a part of the Michael Magahee tract, adjoining lands of Magahee and Philips. The above is said to be one of the best timbered pieces of land on the Georgia Railroad, and the soil is unsurpassed by any pine lands in the county.
....."ALSO, that tract or parcel of land lying in Columbia County, containing 400 acres of land adjoining lands of A.M. Allen, Robert Bailey, J. Adams and others, about 4 miles from the Georgia Railroad and 12 from Augusta, 20 acres of which is cleared, the balance in the woods.

Ginga,

I noticed with great interest your post on the estate of Isaac Walton from the Augusta Chronicle of May 1860.

I own and live on a place called "The Old Kiokee Tannery". It contains 134 acres. The remains of an old tannery are here. I think that the tannery that is on our place may be the one mentioned in the advertisement you quoted.

In searching the land records, there were various owners back to 1875 when the identifiable place disappears into the estate of James Lamkin as a place of 750 acres and he or his estate divided the 750 acres in 1875. This is shown in the Columbia County Estate records in the book of distribution of 1875. This place is always referred to as "The Old Kiokee Tannery".

Listing the similarities between the advertised place and this one, the old neighbors are the same as existed in older times. I have not counted the vats but there are many and could be 37. The remains of the bark mill are here, namely the grinding stones. During the years that we have been here, the older residents have told us that the place was called the Shoe Shop place and that the name of the branch that the tannery is located on is called the Shoe Shop Branch. Older residents have told us that many years ago they got old boards of heart pine from around the tannery location to use as kindling. These could have been from the shops or from the linings of the vats.

We are within about three miles of the Walton revolutionary war soldier's grave. The Walton's intermarried with the Lamkins and one of our current neighbors is Walton Lamkin, a nephew of Elizabeth Lamkin Johnson. In route from our place to the Walton's old cemetery and estates, we pass by two old Lamkin Plantations and the Knox cemetery. The Clanton family seat was across the creek from us. The oldest Ramsey Cemetery is also across the Little Kiokee Creek from us.

No trace of a currying shop or bark shed, or shoe shop exists. Shoe Shop branch is a tributary to the Little Kiokee Creek and the Big Kiokee Creek is normally called Kiokee Creek. The two creeks flow independently into the Savannah River, however, they are very close together through their paths and at this location they are two miles apart.

A theory could be that James Lamkin Bought the place containing the tannery from the estate of Isaac Ramsey.

Let me know if any of you are interested in the tannery.

Joseph Tankersley

Congradulations, think you've identified my gr, gr grandfather John Ramsey's plantation, Mt. Vernon on Little Kiokee River. Yes, it does have ties to the other Mt. Vernon. John Sr and Jr were Isaac's father and grandfather.

Along with plantation farming, it featured a race track for horse racing and the family owned one of the nations top thoroughbreds of it's time there in the stable, in an age of horse racing being known as "the sport of Kings".

Also from the information of the Tannery, it sounds like it's in the same area as what was once Ramsey, GA during the 1800's. Believed to be around the intersection of the old roads leading north through SC to GA's indian territory and branching of west to Appling.

It was believed to be abannoned after the civil war with the family moving further north into Indian lands in GA around Hambersham and surrounding areas and eventually with a major movement of family members going westward to TX and then eventually up into the Indian Territory in OK. One county has been a major fun investigating particularly, it has changed county names back and forth around six times through history in GA! lol

I have been planning a trip to that area as soon as my research was done in hopes of identifying the specific location and looking for archeological remains along with photos.

I knew I was within throwing distance from Old Washington Hwy and Clanton Rd area, from research I've been doing over the past year with the help of a Cousin. Many of the family names on deeds in this area, we married into, such as the Clantons.

I think your postings here will excite her if she hasn't had the oppportunity to see them yet.

Thank you both for the wonderful nuggets of information you posted here regarding family history.

P.S. Noticed a posting and didn't get time to reply to it yet asking if the Ramseys were Quakers due to their movements with them. No but the allied families seem to follow one another through movements in the US and many Quakers associated with Ramseys. During the prosecution and breaking away of Quakers, many became associated with the Baptists in that period converting. Hope this helps someone.

6. Jesse Sims WALTON¹ (William (son of Joseph & Mary)) was born 17 Aug 1801 in Columbia County, GA. He died 10 Aug 1866 in Columbia County, GA.

In Mrs. Elizabeth Lamkin Johnson's personal family file was an article entitled: "Columbia County's Past" continued writings of Dr. H. R. Casey, (marked by hand: "July 22, '81, Columbia News")

"Jesse WALTON was the son of William WALTON, who emigrated from Virginia to Georgia soon after the conclusion of peace between the Mother Country and the Colonies, and settled in Columbia County among the earliest citizens. He bought 800 acres of land on or near Uchee Creek and went to work with a vim to make the virgin soil tributary to the farmer's demands. The grains of sand in the hour glass of time with him "grew smaller by degrees", year after year, and when three scores of years had passed the supply was exhausted and the last debt of nature paid.

"This valuable landed property then passed to the possession of Jesse WALTON. The subject of this sketch was well known to the writer, and I can truly say of him that he was one of Columbia's best citizens, one who was void of offense towards God or man. He was a quiet, law abiding, useful and prominent citizen, served his day and generation with honor and fidelity, and passed to the "world of the hereafter" in 1865, when 63 years of age, lamented in death as a great loss to his immediate family and to his country.

Jesse WALTON, while he took no active and prominent part in politics, was firm in his convictions of right in this as in all subjects which engaged his attention. He was a Henry Clay Whig in the many and bitter contests between that great party and the "Iron ribbed", "Unterrified" Democracy. At the demise of the Wig party he, with many other good and influential citizens, joined what was then known as the American or "Know Nothing" party. He was not a bitter partisan. He never allowed his political feelings to influence him in his social relations, but was always and everywhere kind, courteous and frank in all his dealings with his fellow men. He was by nature a gentleman, open, sincere, honest, noble and just. When he asserted anything as the truth, his word was as good as his bond.

"Jesse WALTON married in early life a daughter of Elias JONES, another of Columbia County's old citizens, who lived near the old town of Wrightsboro, very near that old-time reflect of the past the "Quaker Cemetery", which, though in a dilapidated condition, stands today a memory and a landmark of the Long Age. And here, I will add, on passing, that a colony of Quakers pitched their tenys and built them a local habitation and a name - Brandon - which was the name of the place until changed in honor of General Wright to the present name of Wrightsboro.

"At the death of Elias Jones, Jesse Walton, on right to his wife, became possessed of his valuable tract of about 1,400 acres, which added to his possessions on Uchee Creek, made him the owner of 6,200 acres. At his death he owned, I think, about 150 slaves. He left a widow and 8 children - 6 sons and 2 daughters - all of whom are still living. Mrs. WALTON, with her youngest daughter, Miss Ella, and Dr. Robert WALTON, still occupy the old Homestead, in the fork of the Peters' Ferry and Washington roads.

"Dr. Robert WALTON is a young physician of true promise. In common with every member of the family, I believe, save one, he is a good Methodist, and I anticipate for him a future of much usefulness. Of Miss Ella, I could write in much praise - Her moral worth constitutes her a prize far above rubies. The writer well knows Miss Ella's great aversion to anything like a public mention of her charms, therefore, my pen without prejudice or affection, in speaking has great merit and many virtues, will only say that, to her household and many friends, she is a "Pearl of great price.

"The writer well remembers some of the pleasant reminiscences of these yearly recreations; and, as memory recurs to these happy episodes in life, there comes the said thought of many of these dear friends who were ever foremost in giving zest and life to those innocent amusements, have passed away from this worldly rock to hid themselves in that Rock of Ages, cleft for them in that upper and better world. One among those pleasant days comes to me in especial remembrances when with Isaac Ramsey, that prince of good fellows in all the worldly pleasures; we inaugurated what was then and for many years after known as the "Jaybird". While it was not a regular dance (for their were some in these social gatherings who were interdicted to this innocent amusement) yet we went through the motion near akin to the Old Virginal Reel, to the merry tune of the violin and the song of "DeJaybird sot on a swinging limb, He winked at me and I winked at him." But this was in the long ago, when we would do as we cannot do now.

Had we a railroad from Augusta, running near this immense quarry of granite, we could furnish the material to build up that city in extense, with factories and mills, all up the canal to the Locks. Hasten up President Wheelless, your Augusta and Knoxville railroad, and here you will have granite enough for all your brides and culverts."

The above was in articles written for the Columbia Sentinel in 1883.

Permission granted by the Columbia County News and transcribed by Stephanie Harrison.

The articles were written in 1883 by Dr H. R. Casey for the Columbia Sentinel. He writes about many of the early pioneers of Columbia County who arrived in Georgia in the late 1700's and early 1800's."

"Memoirs Of Georgia" Vol. 1; Chapter 3; Industrial Resources; Coffee County; page 515

WILLIAM T. WALTON, Farmer, Kiokee, Columbia Co, GA, son of Jesse S. Palatiah (Jones) Walton, was born in Columbia County in 1836. His paternal great-grandfather was a native of England and emigrated to this country and settled in Virginia about the middle of the last century. His grandparents were William and Sallie (Grinnage) Walton, natives of Virginia. They migrated to Georgia in 1790 and settled in Columbia County, where he prosperously planted all his life. He was a soldier in the patriot army during the Revolutionary War, and for his services drew some land in Kentucky. To pay the taxes on this he was accustomed to go there very year on horseback. He was surveyor of Columbia County, was raised a planter and made it a life pursuit with marked success. His maternal great-grandfather, Jones, was a native of Wales, England, and emigrated to this country before the Revolutionary War. His mother was a daughter of Ellis, son of the above, and Mary (Pinson) Jones. He was born in Columbia County, near where Harlem now stands, was a large planter, and grew to be what was considered wealthy in this day, and became a leading, influential citizen. Mr. Walton was raised on the plantation and received a collegiate education, graduating in 1856. In 1864 he enlisted in Terrell's artillery company, but in a short time left the service on account of ill health and returned home. He has since devoted himself to planting, and has been content with its pleasures and profits. He is the proprietor of a large estate and is a leading citizen in the county, in which he is held in high esteem. Mr. Walton was married in 1860 to Miss Marry - born in Colombia County in 1841 - daughter of Benjamin Berry, a native of Maryland. His father was a native of England, and immigrated to this country and settled in that state. Of the children born to Mr. and Mrs. Walton seven survive:

Emma, wife of Thomas B. Dozier; Benjamin B; William T; Pollie E; France J; Eloise M. and Ruth. Himself and wife are active members of the Methodist church."

William married Mary Simmons BERRY¹, daughter of Benjamin BERRY and Emily Frances ALEXANDER, on 24 May 1860. Mary was born 1841.

Lamkin/Walton Bible states they were married the "23rd day of May, 1860"

Also in this Bible there is an entry for the birth of "Mary Berry Dozier" June 15, 1881 (?)

Notes from Elizabeth Lamkin Johnson: "Mary Simmons Berry married William Thomas Walton in a Wagnerian wedding feast at "Cedar Grove" in 1859. 100 slaves were part of her dowry. William Thomas Walton was brother of Ella Gertrude Walton Lamkin, (grandmother of Elizabeth B. Lamkin Johnson), and Emily Frances Alexander was sister of Mary Ann Elizabeth Alexander, grandmother of Robert Walton Lamkin, Sr."

'PLANTATION LIFE FLOURISHED AT CEDAR GROVE.

October 1, 1888: The friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Green Mays, of Mr. Jeff Luke, Miss Mary Luke, and of Mrs. ADALINE LUKE are respectfully invited to attend the funeral of the latter from her late residence, corner of Gwinnett and Jackson Streets, this Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

"In the mid-1800's, Columbia County was studded with antebellum homes surrounded by sprawling plantations. Cotton fields spread across the county like a patchwork quilt. One of these plantations was Cedar Grove, which extended from the present Columbia Square Shopping Center to Bel-Air Road. The old plantation house of Cedar Grove stands today behind the Our Savior Episcopal Church on Columbia Road and currently is used as the parish house.

Cedar Grove was built by a wealthy planter, Benjamin Berry, who married Emily Frances Alexander of Virginia, daughter of the family for whom Alexandria, Va., was named. In 1861, Berry purchased a tract of land known as the "Fitten Tract." The tract consisted of 696 acres for which Berry paid $6,000. On this land, Berry built his home which he named Cedar Grove. The original house was an imposing two-story structure with solid pillars. Two wings were added to the house several years later. The house is formal and balanced both upstairs and down with large rooms on either side of a main hall. Each room of the original house had a fireplace for heat in the winter. The foundation of the house was built on trunks of cedar trees and the beams are roughly cut hand-hewn timbers. The house was crowned with an ornate wrought-iron balcony imported from Europe. The Berry family lived surrounded by wealth and slaves. But their lives were not without misfortune. Berry's son, Edgar, born on Oct. 8, 1852, died at the age of 2 and his tombstone lies to the right of the house, enclosed in a small wrought iron fence. But the Berry family experienced joyful occasions in Cedar Grove as well. Berry's daughter, Mary, was married to William Walton in a lavish wedding at Cedar Grove in 1859. On the day of the wedding, Mary's father reportedly led the bridal couple onto the balcony to present the young couple with a dowry. There, amidst a grove of cedar trees, stood 100 slaves which Berry gave to Mary and William as a wedding gift. Columbia County had a very large slave population at this time. A census taken in Columbia County in 1859 counted 3,731 free whites, 83,000 slaves and 66 free people of color. Owning slaves was nothing new to William Walton. He was the son of William and Sallie Walton, who came to Columbia County from Virginia in 1790 and owned a plantation in what is now Harlem, GA. His cousin was George Walton, signer of the Declaration of Independence from Georgia. William grew up on a plantation and graduated from college in 1836. He became county surveyor and a successful and wealthy planter. But the cannons of Civil War sounded the death toll of the old economic order of the South. The days of slavery and the plantation system were coming to an end.

It was during the Civil War when Benjamin Berry died. Berry was a very wealthy man at the time of his death. In his will, he left to "Daughter Amanda Lamkin, the Upper Plantation on Kiokee Creek. To Daughter Mary S. Berry, $10,000 worth of slaves, furniture and provisions and crops. To his widow, Frances, and his son Benjamin, he left "the plantation known as Fitten Place, the house in which I know live (Cedar Grove) furniture and Negroes, share and share alike."

After Berry's death, Frances attempted to keep the plantation together during the chaotic years of the war. In 1863, Mrs. Berry attended a meeting to make uniforms for Confederate soldiers. At this meeting, she met Gen. George Washington Evans of the Confederate army. Evans was well known in the Augusta area. He was born in Augusta and attended Richmond Academy. At 18 he moved to a plantation in Burke County. He later became a wealthy and respected businessman and was twice mayor of Augusta. The couple fell in love and planned to be married. In a prenuptial agreement, Evans agreed that Cedar Gove would remain in the Berry family and he signed away all claims to the house and land. On May 27, 1876, Evans died at Cedar Grove and he is buried in the Magnolia Cemetery in Augusta. Several years later, when a train station was built behind Cedar Grove, it was named Evans in his honor. The town of Evans also was named for him.

Frances Berry (Evans) lived on in Cedar Grove until her death, when the house passed into the hands of Mary Berry Walton. Mary in turn transferred the property to Ophelia Dozier, a niece. Eighteen years later, Cedar Grove found itself in trusteeship for Ophelia's two daughters. Finally, in 1908, one of the daughters sold the property to John Bivens and the Berry family lost control of the land. But the house was still a grand house. During the presidency of William Howard Taft, 1909-1913, Taft visited Cedar Grove to attend a barbecue. Additional cedar trees were planted in honor of his visit. The next owner of the house was Charles Bohler. During this time, the house came to be known as the Bohler Mansion.

The house, one of the oldest in Columbia, now is used for an array of civic and religious activities. The former plantation house looks slightly out of place behind the modern one-story church which sits directly in front of the house. Cedar Grove, which was built with slave labor, housed the first integrated kindergarten in Columbia County, known as the Cedar Grove Kindergarten. The kindergarten, which was sponsored by the DuPont foundation, operated from January 1970 to June 1980. Many of the trees surrounding the house have been cut down, but the horseshoe-shaped drive which circle the house, is still partially lined with the cedar trees for which the plantation was named."

Augusta Chronicle, November 9, 1924: "Mr. Turner Clanton of Atlanta spent several days in Harlem, the past week, visitng his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Clanton, who is confined to bed by sickness."

Augusta Chronicle, March 28, 1928. "DEATH IN ATLANTA OF MRS. E. W. CLANTON.

"Friends in Augusta learned with sincere regret of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Walton Clanton, which took place in Atlanta Sunday, at the home of her son, Turner Walton Clanton, with whom she had resided for the past two years.

"Mrs. Clanton was in her 83rd year, and was born in Columbia County, about 18 miles from Augusta, on the Washington Road. She was one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Walton and their home, "Liberty Point," was one of the fine old plantation homes of that section, a part of the land having been given as a grant to Mrs. Clanton's grandfather, W. S. Walton, from King George III. Until two years ago she made her home in Harlem. She was the widow of the late James Clanton, of Columbia County.

"Mrs. Clanton was a woman of broad culture, and typically representative of the old South. She was an ideal hostess and entertainer, and for years maintained the kind of home for which Columbia County, in that day, was proverbial. Of deep piety and sincere religious conviction, her life had ever been one of tender ministrations, and though for several years and infirmities of age have handicapped her in her activities, many will recall, with pleasant memories, her presence, which was always a benediction. She is survived by her son, Turner W. Clanton, of Atlanta; one granddaughter, Mrs. Jewel Gainey, of Quincy, FL, a sister, Mrs. J. A. Lamkin, Sr. Augusta, and a number of nieces and nephews.

"Her funeral took place Monday afternoon in Atlanta, and interment in West View cemetery, followed."

Lizzie married¹ James Luke CLANTON "Jimmy/Buddy"¹, son of Lt. Col. Turner C. (Jr) CLANTON and Mary Margaret LUKE, on 23 Dec 1868. Jimmy/Buddy was born 1844. He died² 5 Apr 1892.

January 3, 1872: Columbia Sheriff's Sale. Will be sold, the life time interest of JAMES L. CLANTON in all that tract of land, lying and being in said county, on the waters of Uchee Creek, adjoining lands of W.J.L. Cliett, John L. Zachry, Mrs. Wheeler and others, containing twenty-four hundred and seventeen acres (2417) acres, and known as the "Cumming Place." Also three mules and 2 horses, levied on as the property of James L. Clanton, to satisfy one fi.fa. issued from Richmond Superior Court in favor of Harmon Bowley vs. J. Jefferson Thomas, George Schaab, makers and James L. Clanton, Endorser.

Augusta Chronicle, June through November, 1878: "Richmond Sheriff's Sale: Will be sold, at the Lower Market House, in the city of Augusta, on the first Tuesday in August, within the legal hours of sale, the following property, to-wit:

"All those lots or parcels of land lying and being in the county of Richmond, State of Georgia, lot No 8 containing 108 25-100 acres; lot No 6 containing 79 56-100 acres, south half of lot No 5, 81 acres. The above lots described in a plat of the ROWELL place, belonging to the estate of TURNER CLANTON, deceased, as divided by E. V. Sharp and W. C. Jones, December 1875, among distributees of said estate. Levied on the property of JAMES L. CLANTON, by virtue of an execution issued from Richmond Superior Court, in favor of Harmon Rowley, against J. JEFFERSON THOMAS and George Schaub, makers, and JAMES L. CLANTON, endorser; execution transferred by Harmon Rowley to P. E. WALTON and M. M. CLANTON. Notice given according to law, Charles H. Sibley } Sheriff Richmond County."

In 1879 James Luke Clanton had to declare bankruptcy due to the losses of his brother-in-law, Jefferson Thomas, whose notes he had endorsed.

22. Ellis Jones WALTON (Jesse Sims, William (son of Joseph & Mary)) was born 23 Apr 1846 in Columbia County, GA.

May, 1873: "Strayed, on Sunday night, 18th May, from the residence of E. J. Walton, in Columbia County, a large sorrel mare mule. Her left shoulder has been rubbed a little by the collar. I will pay a reward of ten dollars for her recovery. ELLIS J. WALTON, Columbia County, GA."

Ellis married¹ Mary Amelia MCLEAN "Molly (or Mollie)"¹, daughter of Dr. William Nibole MCLEAN and Louisa Jeanette PARKS, on 7 Dec 1870. Molly (or Mollie) was born 20 Sep 1851. She died² 20 Jul 1883.

Mary Amelia's sister - Maggie McLean, married Carlton Smith. As Mrs. Johnson states in her notes, the Walton/Lamkin family called Carlton "Cousin", even though he wasn't actually a cousin.

Notes of Elizabeth Lamkin Johnson: "Lloyd Carlton Smith lived at "Woodville", the house built about 1814 that was the home of Maggie McLean's parents. Carlton Smith was the son of John Edward Smith and Virginia Jessie Frances M_____ (unable to read note). "Woodville" was a 19 room home, near Appling on Dozier Road, Winfield, GA. The land on which "Woodville" was built was part of James M. Hamilton's estate. As children, we went often to "Woodville" and we could stand straight up in the huge fireplaces! (I'll never forget this!) "Woodville" is now owned by Miriam Edith Smith Collins, and her husband - Eugene T. Collins. He was an industrial education teacher at Langford. They are the fourth generation to live at "Woodville."

They had the following children:

- 24. Ella Gertrude WALTON "Munna"¹ (Jesse Sims, William (son of Joseph & Mary)) was born 1 Jul 1852 in Columbia County, GA. She died 11 Apr 1944 in Augusta, GA.

"Of Miss Ella I could write in much praise--Her moral worth constitutes her a prize far above rubies. The writer well knows Miss Ella's great aversion to anything like a public mention of her charms, therefore, my pen without prejudice or affection, in speaking her great merit and many virtues, will only say that, to her household and many friends, she is a "pearl of great price"."

Casey for the Columbia Sentinel. He writes about many of the early pioneers of Columbia County who arrived in Georgia in the late 1700's and early 1800's."

Notes from Elizabeth Lamkin Johnson:

"Ella Walton Lamkin died at age 91 years."

"Over a period of several years, many Sunday afternoons, my paternal grandmother - Ella Gertrude Walton Lamkin ("Munna")- would say to my father, "Walton, let's ride up to see Carlton Smith." My father nearly always did what "Munna" requested him to do. We would ride from "The Oaks" (our home) to "Woodville" (the McLean home where Carlton Smith and Mattie McLean Smith lived), on Dozier Road, nearly Appling at Winfield, GA.

"Every one, young and old, called older relatives and others "Cousin". We called Carlton Smith - "Cousin Carlton". In my youth I accepted this term and never gave it much thought. Now that I am 76 years old and Munna, Momma, and Papa are gone, and I can't fire questions to them as, "How are we kin to Cousin Carlton and Cousin Edward Smith?"...I am anxious to trace the relationship!

"Hilda (her cousin) and I borrowed two books written and compiled by Carolyn McLean Smith Whipple: "Dr. William Niblo McLean Family," c. 1980, and "The John Edward Smith Family," n.d. Shirley Smith Johnson was kind enough to let us research them. Also, we knew from the "Walton Family Bible" that three Walton's, brothers of "Munna", had married three McLean sisters.

"Munna taught us to call "Cousin" Carlton and "Cousin" Edward Smith because she was related to the McLean's through her three brothers' marriages to the three sisters.

"Hilda and I remember happy visits to "Woodville", a beautiful place that all of our children and grandchildren should see. A trip well worth your time!

"Hilda and I could stand straight and tall inside the fireplace. They were the biggest ones we'd ever seen in our life at our time, and still are the largest fireplaces!

"Beautiful surrounding there, porch, yards, etc. Delicious cakes, tea cakes, and a drink were always served us. It was and is a most fascinating place and still full of memories for us.

(some information is provided on "good family friends, and only related to Munna through her three brother's marriages)

"Hilda's and my boys may recall me of the Dr. McLean houses and cemeteries, located on the Tubman Road, from "The Oaks" - cross the branch (Delph Branch) and just at the sharp curve on Tubman Road where it turns to connect to the Washington Road. (Mrs. E. provided a hand drawn map of the area).

"The McLean House was inherited by Aunt Ethel Lamkin Davenport, my mother's sister. The house was demolished for progress several years ago when the black people built many houses after Walter Davenport and Martha Parker sold this part of Aunt Ethel's property.

"I believe the cemetery was demolished when Tubman Road was paved, etc. Unbeknowing to the Highway Department, as the graves were sinking and disappear long before the road was paved. The marble slabs were so near the dirt country road - when I was a child - did not invite much traffic as there were only five houses between our house on Tubman Road to the Washington Road. Not many automobiles at all - people walked to school, church, fields, etc."

Augusta Chronicle:

January 20, 1924 "Mrs. Ella LAMKIN has returned from a visit to her son, Mr. Walter [Walton] LAMKIN, in North Augusta."

October 26, 1925 "Mrs. Ella LAMKIN is spending some time here with the family of her son, Mr. Walton LAMKIN."

July 4, 1933: "The Oaks," fine old home of the Walton Lamkin's, in Columbia County, was the scene Saturday of a reunion in honor of the 81st birthday of Mrs. James A. Lamkin, Sr., an occasion which assembled 30 guests including her five sons and their families. Crape myrtle, gaillardia and gorgeous zinnias, garnered from the Lamkin gardens filled bowls, vases and baskets throughout the house, and combined, formed the huge centerpiece of the massive table from which was served a sumptuous repast.

"Those present were...Mr. and Mrs. R. Walton Lamkin, Miss Elizabeth Lamkin, Walton, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Griffith Lamkin, Miss Betsy Lamkin; Mr. and Mrs. Phinizy Lamkin, Miss Hilda Lamkin; Mr. Hugh Lamkin and Mr.

David Paysinger and Mrs. Turner Clanton, off of Evans, GA., Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Lamkin, and Miss Evelyn Lamkin; Mrs. Ada Walton, Harlem; Mrs. Mary Jesse Vollaton, Mrs. Tom Norvell, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reese, Mrs. Lucille Reese, Cooper, of Grovetown; Miss Edith Walton, Chattanooga; Mrs. Clara Lou Ivey, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lamkin and Miss Martha Davis Lamkin, Augusta; and Mr. J. B. Davenport, Jr., North Augusta.

"The guest of honor, whose charm and graciousness are characteristic of the old school, and whose presence at any gathering is a benediction, received many gifts from relatives and friends with the many good wishes that there would be many more similar assemblages, with herself the central figure."

April 13, 1944: "MRS. ELLA G. LAMKIN PASSES AT RESIDENCE. Mrs. Ella Gertrude Lamkin, 91, well known Columbia County resident, and mother of G.B. Lamkin, county commissioner of Columbia County, died yesterday at the residence of her son, R.W. Lamkin, 1943 Walton Way, after an illness of 3 months. Funeral services will be held at Platt's chapel this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Paul A. Turner, assisted by the Rev. I.T. Hawk, will officiate. Interment will be in Harlem, GA cemetery. Pallbearers will be: L.O. Ballentine, J.G. Sells, Joe Hatcher, Harlem; John Ayers, Evans; G.D. Pollard and J.E. Eubank, Appling, GA. Mrs. Walton [Lamkin] was the daughter of the late Jesse Walton and Pallatia Jones, and the wife of the late James A. Lamkin, Sr. She was a member of St. John's Methodist Church and a woman who delighted in doing thoughtful things and aiding everyone in distress. She had a bright and vivacious mind which made her an interesting companion despite her age. She always retained the outlook of youth and the keen interest in things that had distinguished her for her entire life. Survivors are five sons, R.W. Lamkin, James A. Lamkin, and Phinizy Lamkin, all of Augusta; G.B. Lamkin of Evans, and F.E. Lamkin of Harlem; six grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews."

Munna married¹ James Alexander (I) LAMKIN ""Pa-Jim""¹, son of Augustus "Gus" B. LAMKIN and Mary Ann Elizabeth ALEXANDER ""Betsy"", on 14 Nov 1882. "Pa-Jim" was born 5 Oct 1850 in Columbia County, GA. He died 14 Apr 1922 in Columbia County, GA and was buried in Harlem Cemetery, Harlem, GA.

Notes from Mrs. Elizabeth Lamkin Johnson: "He died while laughing at a baseball game (I believe in Pumpkin Center, GA). They are both interred in Harlem (Georgia) Cemetery."

"Memoirs of Georgia"

"JAMES A. LAMKIN, a prosperous farmer, Kiokee, Columbia Co., was born in Columbia County, in 1850. His father, Augustus Lamkin, was also a native of Columbia county, was a farmer and race-horse man, and traveled over the state, taking part in all the leading races. He was successful in business, was highly respected and lived in his native county until he died in 1869. His parents were James and Katie (Smith) Lamkin. James Lamkin was a native of Virginia, but came to Georgia and settled in Columbia county, when a young man, and was one of the early settlers of that county. When he came to Georgia he was a very poor man, but was successful and accumulated a large fortune. Mr. James A. Lamkin's mother was a daughter of James Alexander, who was a native of Columbia county. He fought in the battle of New Orleans as a major. Mr. James A. Lamkin, the subject of this sketch, was reared on the farm and received a limited education. In 1882 he married Miss Ella Walton, daughter of Jesse and Palatil (Jones) Walton. Mr. Walton was born in Columbia county; was a successful farmer, and lived and died in the county of his birth. Mr. and Mrs. Lamkin had six sons: Walton, James A., Clanton, Griffith, Jacob P. and Frank E. He started life with very little, but by hard work and diligent application to business was successful, and now owns 3,000 acres of choice land, a gin mill, saw mill, and other property. He was deputy sheriff of his county six years and is a highly respected member of the Masonic fraternity. His wife was born in Columbia county, in 1852. He is an active and useful member of the Methodist Episcopal Church."

Augusta Chronicle, March 3, 1875. The Medical College of Georgia, "now the Medical Department of the State University" held commencement exercises at the Masonic Hall. Among those receiving their Degree of Doctor of Medicine were Henry C. Walton of Wilkes County and Robert J. Walton of Columbia County, GA.

Augusta Chronicle, April 11, 1925: 'DR. ROBERT J. WALTON, OF HARLEM, DEAD. Funeral Services to be Conducted Sunday Morning. Dr. Robert J. Walton, prominent citizen of Harlem, GA died at a local hospital early last night following an illness that had extended over a period of several months. Funeral services will be conducted at the graveside in the Harlem cemetery tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

"Dr. Walton had been in failing health for some time, having never quite recovered from the shock which followed the accidental death of his son, Robert, several years ago. Dr. Walton had been under treatment at the local hospital but had recently so improved as to return to his home. Yesterday morning his condition became grave and he was rushed to the hospital where he passed away quietly at 6:05 pm.

"Besides his wife, Mrs. Ada Zachary Walton, Dr. Walton is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Jennie Martin of Harlem; two sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Clanton and Mrs. James Lamkin or Harlem; a number of nieces and nephews and other relatives throughout this section of Georgia.

"Dr. Walton was a sterling citizen and a devout Christian. He was an active and loyal member of the Harlem Methodist church and a citizen always interested in the progress and uplift of his community. He began the practice of medicine many years ago, having received his medical education at the University of Georgia Medical School in Augusta. Dr. Walton was born on the old Walton plantation near Evans, GA., where he spent his early life.

"Besides the practice of medicine, Dr. Walton had been identified with other business ventures and was a most successful business man. For many years he conducted a drug store at Harlem in the practice of his chosen profession. Dr. Walton represented all that was high and noble and was a typical representative of the country doctor, whose name has become blessed to those who felt the touch of his ministering hand. He was kind and sympathetic, a man loved by everybody who knew him, and his friends were numbered by the hundreds.

"He was a devoted husband and father, and his thoughts were always for his family and loved ones. In his everyday life he practiced the principle of brotherly love and was a man four-square to the world who never harmed or spoke ill of anyone. Throughout Columbia County he was loved like a father for it was there that he was known best and where he administered to suffering humanity unselfishly and without thought of pecuniary gain."

Robert married¹ (1) Margaret ("Maggie") DENT "Muddie", daughter of Dr. W. H. DENT, on 10 Apr 1884. Muddie was born 1864. She died 25 Sep 1918 in Harlem (Augusta), GA.

Augusta Chronicle: May 30, 1907 "Mrs. Dent, of Waynesboro, GA is in Harlem on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Robert J. Walton, on Tripp Street."

September 26, 1918: "MRS. R. J. WALTON, OF HARLEM, GA., DEAD. Harlem, Ga., September 25th: The death is announced of Mrs. R. J. Walton, who passed away today at 10 o'clock at her home. The funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Walton is survived by her husband, Dr. Robert J. Walton, a daughter, Mrs. Jenny Martin, whose husband is in France, and a son, Robert Walton. She was a daughter of Dr. W. H. Dent, of Waynesboro, and was prominently connected throughout the state. Mrs. Walton was universally beloved and the news of her death will cause sorrow to many hearts."

They had the following children:

- + 78 F i. Jenny (or Jennie) Dent WALTON was born 4 Sep 1890.
- 79 M ii. John Dent WALTON (died at age 15)¹ was born 30 Nov 1892. He died 1907 in Harlem, GA - at age 15 and was buried in Harlem Cemetery, Harlem, GA.
- 80 F iii. Margie (a twin) WALTON (died a baby)¹ died in Harlem, GA - at age 11 months and was buried in Harlem Cemetery, Harlem, GA.
- 81 F iv. Margaret (a twin) WALTON¹.
- 82 M v. Robert Jones (Jr.) WALTON (died young) died 15 Mar 1922 and was buried in Harlem Cemetery, Harlem, GA.

Note: In the Lamkin/Walton Family Bible, it states his name was Robert Dent Walton, and that he died March 15, 1922.

Augusta Chronicle, March 21, 1922: "ROBERT J. WALTON, JR. IS BURIED AT HARLEM. Funeral Took Place Sunday, When Large Body of Friends Gathered. The funeral service at the home and the interment at the Harlem cemetery last Sunday at 11 o'clock of Robert Jones Walton, Jr. drew together an unusually large concourse of sorrowing friends. Church services in both churches were suspended, the Rev. Dr. Quillian, pastor of the Methodist church of which young Walton was a member, having charge of the service.

"The pallbearers were his comrades, Mess. Bailey Jones, Wilmer Lanier, Marion McDaniel, Bernard Davey, Hubert Blanchard and Richard Weeks. Among the profusion of floral tributes, wonderfully beautiful and varied, was one especially testifying the esteem of the boys and young men of the town - a great anchor of carnations, colonial roses and valley lilies.

"It may be said that no recent death has caused more genuine distress than the untimely passing of this beloved and promising young man. Handsome, genial and unoffending, Rob Walton was as popular a young fellow as there was in the county. In his nineteenth at the University of Georgia, though his course there had been temporarily interrupted.

"The circumstances of the accident causing death were peculiarly painful. Robert and Mr. Leon M. Connor, an intimate friend, were in a car approaching a railway crossing near Campania, when the car met Bynum on horse-back. Mr. Bynum's horse shied from the train, colliding with the machine. The horse fell with a broken leg, while the car turned over. Though bruised by the fall Mr. Bynum went at once to the aid of Connor and Walton. Mr. Connor was painfully hurt, though not disabled, and was holding his unconscious companion's head in his lap, doing what they could for Robert's comfort the two gentlemen procured a car taking him at once to his father, Dr. Robert J. Walton.

"The accident occurred about six o'clock Thursday afternoon. As the injury caused traumatic meningitis, his despairing father saw from the first that no medical aid could restore him.

"Robert never regained consciousness, passing peacefully away about ten o'clock Saturday morning. Several Athens fraternity men, now at the Medical College in Augusta, as well as many other friends from abroad attended the sad funeral and extend to his sorrowing parents and sister their profound sympathy."

Robert also married (2) Ada ZACHARY¹. Ada was buried in Harlem Cemetery, Harlem, GA.

29. Frances Walton CARTLEDGE (Frances Georgie WALTON, William (son of Joseph & Mary)) was born³ 29 Mar 1829. She died 27 Apr 1908.

Information on Frances Walton Cartledge from "Lou", who wrote on to me on March 14, 2005:

Hi Virginia, Good to hear from you reagrding the Walton and Cartledge family. My information is as follows:

James Cartledge, Jr., born January 13, 1796 in Columbia County, Georgia, and died in 1851. Married on December 5, 1824 to Frances G. Walton, born March 12, 1807 and died in 1861. They had six children, Their third child, Frances Walton Cartledge married Jeremiah Green Reese and they had ten children, one of whom was Jeremiah Morgan Reese who is my maternal great grandfather. It is ironic that Jeremiah Morgan Reese's sister, Frances Forrest Reese, married Morgan Henry Holloway and they are my paternal great grandparents. My parents were second cousins (believe it or not).

In 2000 I completed a book on the Holloway and Reese families. In it I put some of the extended families in it, one of which was Cartledge but I did not have a lot of information. The book had 215 pages and since that time I have added another hundred pages which does not include any of the extended families which I have also added a lot of information. I am not at the present time planning to do a second edition, but I may in the future. I have also worked on the Cartledge family and have typed approximately 130 pages, some of which I got from the internet and you know, this information is not always correct.

Have I helped you in any way? Were you looking for information older than what I have given or after what I have given? I look forward to hear from you soon. Lou

Augusta Chronicle, June 12, 1921: "Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Hollingsworth and Master Virgil Hollingsworth, Jr., were out from Augusta Sunday spending the day with Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Vollotton."

June 21, 1922: 'MRS. VIRGIL HOLLINGSWORTH DIED Yesterday Morning at her Home on Wrightsboro Road- Funeral this Afternoon. The community will be shocked and distressed to know that Mrs. Mattie Lou Hollingsworth, wife of Mr. Virgil Hollingsworth, died yesterday morning. Mrs. Hollingsworth had been ill about three weeks. However, her condition was not regarded as serious until during the last few days. Willing hands and loving hearts and the best of medical skill ministered to her in her illness, but the end came, quietly and peacefully, Sunday, about 8:20 am, at her home, 2274 Wrightsboro Road.

"No more lovable woman ever lived than Mrs. Hollingsworth. She was in the prime of life. She was idolized in her home - for it was in the home that her beautiful character best asserted itself and where her sweet disposition, her pleasant smile, her thought for others and her deep sympathy spread happiness to those about her. "There is not a happier home in the world than that where she, here husband, her son, and Mrs. S. L. Hollingsworth, Mr. Hollingsworth's mother, lived in the love, confidence and enjoyment, one of the other, for there was no more splendid or thoughtful mother than she and her devotion to her husband was endless, and the purest and best; and she dearly loved Mr. Hollingsworth's mother. Among her relatives she was adored by parents, sisters and brothers.

"Mrs. Hollingsworth was dear to a very large circle of friends, who were intimately drawn to her by her cordiality of manner, by her heart full of love for everyone and by her gentleness and kindness. She was active in church and social work and many a person in humble life venerated her - because of her goodness and her sympathy and her words of comfort and good cheer. She endeared herself to everyone.

"Before her marriage sixteen and a half years ago, Mrs. Hollingsworth was Miss Mattie Lou Green (sic), of Grovetown. Other than her husband and one son, Virgil Hollingsworth Jr., she is survived by her mother, Mrs. R. R. Vallotton, of Grovetown; three brothers, Mr. W. C. Greene, of Chattanooga; Mr. John A. Greene, of Chattanooga; and Dr. Lloyd B. Greene, of the United States Naval Hospital at Philadelphia; and three sisters, Mrs. Verdery Brandon of Hephzibah; Mrs. Milton Herlong of Grovetown, and Mrs. N. F. Fiske of Augusta.

"Mrs. Hollingsworth was an ardent and earnest member of the Greene Street Presbyterian Church and was an active participant in all the activities there. Her funeral will take place there this afternoon at 5 o'clock, Rev. Dr. M.M. MacFerrin, the pastor, officiating. The pallbearers will be: Messrs. W.W. Zealy, Charles W. Bowen, Earl C. Hollingsworth, N.F. Fiske, Milton Herlong, J. Milton Guest. Interment will be in the Westover."

Mattie married P. Virgil HOLLINGSWORTH on 6 Dec 1905. P. Virgil HOLLINGSWORTH was born 10 May 1879 in Newton County, GA. He died 1 Dec 1953 in Augusta, Richmond Co., GA and was buried in Westover Cemetery - Augusta, GA.

Father: Samuel Levi Hollingsworth b: 14 SEP 1858 in Newton Co., Georgia

Mother: Mary Leila Marbut b: EST 1855

Marriage 2) Kathryn Luck b: 8 JUN 1898 in Augusta, Richmond County, Georgia; died in Florida.

President and Treasurer, Hollingsworth Candy Company, 823 Telfair, Augusta, Richmond County, Georgia.

The Hollingsworth Candy Company was located at 827 Telfair Street in Augusta. Founded in 1909 as the Hollingsworth-Tutt Candy Company, became known as the Hollingsworth Candy Company when the first building on Telfair was constructed in 1913. They added another building in 1920. The company merged with Nunnally's in 1932 to form the Fine Products Corp. The business is closed, but the buildings have been converted to office space with a common facade.

A "P. Virgil Hollingsworth" was very active in the Augusta (GA) Rotarians. 1917 through at least 1936.

Augusta Chronicle, September 23, 1927: "Property on the west side of Monte Sano Avenue was sold by Kathryn L. Hollingsworth and P. Virgil Hollingsworth, Jr., to J. Noble Edmondson for approximately $19,000."

Augusta Chronicle, December 3, 1953: "VIRGIL HOLLINGSWORTH, SR... In this era of handouts, and doles, and subsidies, when so many young people start out in life with the idea that the world owes them a living, the life story of Virgil Hollingsworth, Sr., is a refreshing reminder that there is no substitute for hard work, imagination and individual initiative and enterprise.

"Mr. Hollingsworth died Tuesday at the age of 74, and Augustans are mourning the death of a well-loved and stalwart citizen who had done much for the community and its people.

"His career offers a fascinating parallel to the deeds of some of the "rags-to-riches" heroes of Horatio Alger fame. Beginning his fabulous business career, Mr. Hollingsworth, as a young man, invested $200 in a bankrupt candy kitchen and started a business which was to grow into one of the giants of industry.

"Under his guiding genius, Hollingsworth candies became a household word the world over, and his products won the grand prize for excellence at the Paris International Exposition, and later in similar expositions in Belgium and Italy. Mr. Hollingsworth continued to expand his business until it became the largest in its field in the South, and under the name of the Fine Products Corp it later was merged with Nunnally's and Sweetly Yours candies.

"Even in retirement, Mr. Hollingsworth found the opportunity to use his business acumen in building up a large and successful citrus industry in Florida.

"Mr. Hollingsworth loved his fellow man. His charities were many and great but unpublicized. He helped a number of hard pressed college students to complete their education when they were in danger of having to drop out of school because of lack of finances.

"A kind and gentle man, Virgil Hollingsworth won friends to him through his kindness and his other spiritual qualities. His imprint has been left upon our business, cultural, educational, religious and civil life. His death is deeply mourned in Augusta."

Augusta Chronicle, January 5, 1966: "NEWTON FLOURNOY FISKE...By any standard of human measurement, Newton Flournoy Fiske was a man of exceptional character and talent. He was a successful businessman, a conscientious civic leader, and a dedicated Christian.

In the more than half a century that he had resided in Augusta he had demonstrated his capabilities in numerous ways, never forgetting his responsibilities as a citizen, but mindful always of his obligation to God.

"Almost from the outset of his residency here, Mr. Fiske was one of the area's most substantial benefactors. Not only was he associated with the organization of Fine Products when it was formed as a successor to Hollingsworth Candy Co., and played a major role in the operations of both in the years since, but his vision and enterprise in the mid-Thirties had much to do with the development in the Central Savannah River Area of the thriving live stock industry the CSRA enjoys to this day. Recognition of the former was evidenced in his election to two terms as president of the National Confectioners Association, and of the latter in the fact that he operated and owned one of the finest Hereford beef cattle farms in the section of the country.

"Over the years, his interest in the civic life of Augusta has been made manifest in myriad ways. He was an active, and positive - as well as cheerful- contributor to the Chamber of Commerce and as a former president and director of the Augusta Rotary Club played a prominent role in other phases of community affairs.

"That Augusta was cited during World War II as a model military center was due in large measure to Mr. Fiske's untiring and inspiring leadership of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Health and Welfare which served as a liaison between the military forces at then Camp Gordon and the various agencies within the civilian community.

"All of these activities, including several terms as a member of the Richmond County Board of Education, consumed, as one might well imagine, much of Mr. Fiske's time. But never at any time during his long and fruitful life was he ever too busy to serve his church or to pause to give aid to deserving ones in need.

"And so, when death came Tuesday to Newton Flournoy Fiske at the age of 76, Augusta, and the entire Central Savannah River Area, lost an outstanding citizen and a God-fearing man of whom it could well be said that he loved his neighbor as himself."

June 28, 1917: MR. JESSE WALTON IVEY WEDS MISS MINTA MORRIS. Special to the Chronicle. Grovetown, June 26. The numerous friends throughout this section of Georgia of Mr. Jesse Walton Ivey, formerly of this place, now a resident of Tennessee, will be interested in the following clipping from the Chattanooga papers: "Miss Minta Morris and Mr. Jesse Walton Ivey were married Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.H. Morris, in St. Elmo. The Rev. W.H. Biggs, of the Methodist church, officiated. Preceding the ceremony, Mr. Ed Scale sang, "I Love You," and "I Love You Truly," by Cadman, and Miss Mary Seagle rendered a piano program. The bride wore a grey jersey cloth suit, trimmed in silver and navy blue with accessories to match. Her corsage bouquet was of lilies of the valley and sweet peas. Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Ivey left on a bridal trip for points in Virginia and will visit Augusta, GA before returning. After a two week's trip they will be at home at 4902 St. Elmo Avenue. The bride is a graduate of Central High School and has been a member of the South St. Elmo School faculty for some time, being esteemed one of the most popular teachers in the public schools. Mr. Ivey is connected with the Clemons Bros. furniture store. The marriage came as a surprise to many friends of the bride and groom. Mr. Ivey was a popular resident of this place until a few years ago when he moved to Chattanooga. He is a young man of spontaneous cordiality that is always so charming and is a general favorite with all who know him. He has a host of friends who wish for him and his young bride much happiness and prosperity."

Emmie married⁹ Charley Pinckney POWELL, son of Starling Edward (son of Charles Pinckney Sr) POWELL and Frances Elizabeth FLOYD, on 6 Dec 1916 in Grovetown, GA. Charley was born 22 Aug 1891 in Edgefield, South Carolina. He died 14 Nov 1955 in Grovetown, GA and was buried in Grove Baptist Church, Grovetown, GA.

Per Lisa Kaylene Powell: First, My grandfather's name really is 'CHARLEY', not 'CHARLES'. This is a very common error that is being perpetuated in some Internet files. He was a contractor as well as a farmer. He built the Grove Baptist Church in which his funeral was held.

"Powell Family Record" compiled by Georgia Powell Adams in 1987, and shared by Lisa Kaylene Powell:

Our family in America originated with John Powell, a descendant of King Dobbey Galloway of Ireland, who came to America before the Civil War, about 1800, and settled in Aiken County, SC. John Powell was accompanied by John Floyd of Ireland. John Floyd soon moved to Augusta.

John Powell married an American lady, birth unknown, and lived to be 104 years old. They had two sons: 1) Charles Pinkney Powell, Sr., born Feb 14, 1824/died Jan 28, 1914; and 2) W. J. Powell (of Augusta, GA), born Dec 7, 1827/died April 17, 1890.

Charles Pinckney Powell Sr. married Martha Hancock of South Carolina, birth unknown/died in 1903, and they had nine children: 1) Starling Elder Powell Sr. born July 6, 1844/died April 27, 1932. 2) John Powell (died in Civil War); 3) Charles Pinkney Powell Jr.; 4) Janie Powell; 5) David Thomas Powell; 6) David Thomas Powell; 7) Richard Powell; 8) Mary Powell (died young); and 9) William Hancock Powell.

Starling Elder Powell (son of Charles Pinckney Powell Sr and Martha Hancock) was born July 6, 1844/died May 17, 1932. In 1869 he married Frances Elizabeth FLOYD, born May 11, 1855/died April 16, 1938. They had 14 children: 1) Mary Anne Powell; 2) David Thomas Powell; 3) William Henry Powell; 4) Starling Elder Powell Jr.; 5) John Aaron Powell; 6) Walter Lee Powell; 7) Frances Elizabeth Powell; 8) Julia Henrietta Powell; 9) Mattie Victorial Powell; 10) Luther Getzen Powell; 11) Sarah Louise Powell; 12) Charles Pinnkey Powell (Sr - Charley, who married Emmie Walton); 13) Georgia Mealing Powell; and 14) Frank Eugene Powell.

Father of Charley Pinckney Powell: Starling Elder Powell; Mother: Frances Elizabeth Floyd; Brothers of C. P. Powell: John Powell of Augusta, Eldred Powell of Edgefield, William Powell of Edgefield; sisters: Mrs. T. E. Hill of Graniteville, SC and Mrs. Bennie Floyd of Augusta.

According to Peggy [Emmie Louise Powell] Silletto , 671 S E Stow Terrace, Port St Lucie, FL 34984, <jpsilletto@aol.com>, This Charley P. Powell is her father, and the son of Starling Elder Powell & Frances Elizabeth 'Fannie' Floyd. Charlie P. Powell is named as a child in the will of Starling Elder Powell, dated Sept 19, 1922. Later petition to prove the will states that his place of residence is Grovetown, GA.

This family plot is for the Thomas Norvell family:

Emme Walton July 31, 1869-July 22, 1955

I am not certain as to the exact spelling on this tombstone. My notes say Emmie, but it is obvious that I added the "i" later.

Thomas E. Norvell December 19, 1853-February 5 1932

Emme and Thomas were husband and wife.

daughter: Louise August 31, 1907-February 26, 1914

Josephine Gainey June 7, 1866-31 July 1899

Josephine was the first wife of Thomas Norvell.

Further comments: I read with great interest then entry you had for Emme Walton on page 264 of your text. Her obituary reads that she was survived by two sons and four step daughters. Now you know that she had at least one child, a daughter, who died before reaching maturity. A newspaper article about Thomas E. Norvell states that he raised seven children to maturity. An earlier article dated 1920 mentions a Thomas E. Norvell III. I am assuming that his first born son was given the family name, and that he was likely born of his first wife, so he must have had at least one son and four daughters with his first wife. I could be wrong, and T.E. Norvell III could be a son of Emme who died as a young man. I would think that some census checking could help with this.

Augusta Chronicle, March 19, 1920: 'J. DOZIER WALTON DIED WEDNESDAY. Former Resident of Columbia County Passes Away in Chattanooga, Where He Was in Business.

"Grovetown, GA, March 18 - Information has reached Grovetown of the death late yesterday afternoon at his home in Chattanooga, TN of Mr. J. Dozier Walton.

"Mr. Walton was the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Walton of Columbia County and on both his mother's and father's side was connected with many of the most prominent families of this section. He was born and reared in Grovetown, but when quite young he accepted a position in Chattanooga, where he has since made his home. At the time of his death he was a member of the firm of Walton & Co., one of the leading furniture houses in Chattanooga.

"Some years ago he was married to Miss Edyth Degan of Chattanooga, who survives him together with several small children.

"The news of Mr. Walton's death came as a shock to his friends and relatives, for he was a young man - has always enjoyed good health and was sick only one hour when death came suddenly.

"Chattanooga has lost a splendid young man and a business man of integrity in the death of Dozier Walton.

"The friends in Augusta and throughout this section of the country, of Mr. J. Dozier Walton, son of the late Alphonso Walton of Columbia County, will be deeply pained to learn of his death, which occurred in Chattanooga, TN, on Wednesday. He had been ill a number of days with influenza.

Mr. Walton was forty-five years old and was born and reared in Columbia County, GA. He came from one of the most prominent families of that county and had a host of friends there as well as in Augusta and the surrounding territory. Some years ago Mr. Walton moved to Chattanooga and later established the Walton Furniture Co. of that city. He was at the head of the company, and he and his sister, Miss Edith Walton, were the proprietors.

"Mr. Walton is survived by his wife and five children; four sisters, Mrs. R. R. Volloton and Mrs. R. E. Norvell of Grovetown, GA; Miss Edith Walton and Mrs. Joseph Ivey, of Chattanooga; and one brother, Mr. H. Walton, of Evans, GA. He was the nephew of Mrs. James Clanton, Mrs. James Lamkin, and Dr. R. Augusta Chronicle, November 15, 1925

'WALTON-WRIGHT: The Chattanooga Times gives the following account of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Walton and Mr. Ledman Wright, both of Chattanooga. 'Mrs. Wright's father, Mr. Dozier Walton, was born and reared on the old Walton plantation, in Columbia County. Going to Chattanooga when a young man he entered the furniture business and was a member of the firm of Walton and Company. Her paternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfenzo (sic) Walton.

: Marriage of Miss Dorothy Walton to Mr. Ledman Wright was beautifully solemnized Sunday at high noon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Edyth Deakins Walton, on Union Avenue. The Rev. Martin, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, Rossville, officiated, using the ring ceremony.

"The entire lower floors of the home presented a lovely setting, with decorations of green and white. An improvised altar was arranged in the library, with white chrysanthemums, rich green ferns and tall palms. Floor baskets filled with roses were placed at intervals, while branching candelabra, with burning white tapers, were at each side of the altar. The stairway from which the bridal party descended was entwined with southern smilax. The soft radiance from the burning white tapers lighted the wedding scene. Miss Christine Johnson, maid of honor, was the first of the bridal party descending the stairway and was met by the groom and his best man, George Carmichael, at the foot of the stairway. The maid of honor and best man then proceeded down the long drawing room into the library to the altar. Next came the groom, followed by the bride and her brother, Floyd A. Walton, who gave her in marriage. (portions about the attire of the wedding party not quoted)

"Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wright left on a motor trip, destination being withheld.

"Mrs. Wright is the only daughter of Mrs. Edyth Walton and the late J. D. Walton. Her brothers are Floyd; J.D. Jr., Clanton and Clarence Walton. She received her education at central High School.

"Mr. Wright is the eldest son of F. G. Wright. He received his education at Chattanooga High School and is connected with the Southern Supply Company. The wedding will come as a surprise since no announcement had been made."

Dorothy married Ledman WRIGHT on Nov 1925 in Chattanooga, TN - at the home of the bride.

"TESTIMONY IN DOZIER CASE..."

"The Superior Court opened yesterday morning for the trial of civil cases. The first case called was that of MRS. EMMA DOZIER, of Columbia County, who is suing the city of Augusta for $10,000 damages for the alleged homicide of her husband, Thomas B. DOZIER, by drowning in the canal at Lake Olmstead in 1903. (portions not quoted).. "When the case was taken up in the Superior Court yesterday, the plaintiff introduced evidence to show at the time Dozier was drowned there was an unprotected gap 30 feet wide in the fence on the road on the bank of Lake Olmstead, and that where the road was unprotected the ground sloped from the road to the edge of the water. The evidence also showed that Dozier, coming along the road at night slipped off the road into the water and was drowned."

"Editor Chronicle; In a recent issue of the Chronicle appeared an article containing quite a bit of criticism in reference to treatment received by patients at the University Hospital. I wish to say, in reply to this article, that I have since January of this year, spent fifty three days at the University Hospital and that never have I received better treatment than that accorded me on the part of the doctors and nurses there. I was furnished with a room which was equipped with all necessary comforts and sanitary in every respect. I will say further that during my stay at the hospital it was my privilege to observe that all other patients received every necessary attention. In fairness, to the University Hospital and its untiring corps of doctors and nurses I ask that you let this letter appear in the columns of the Chronicle. B. B. WALTON."

Survivors include his wife, Marion Coles Phinizy Jones; two daughters, Mrs. Franklin Sterling, Piedmont, and Pallie Walton Jones, Newport Beach, a son, Ferdinand Phinizy Jones, West Hills, and a grandchild."

Thomas married Marian Coles (2nd of the name) PHINIZY, daughter of Ferdinand Phinizy (3rd of the name) PHINIZY and Mary PORTER, on 9 Mar 1946. Marian was born 1920.

1937 - attending Sweet Briar College in Virginia, along with Jane and Marianna Bush.
1940 - member of teh Augusta Debutante Society
February, 1946, Marion Coles Phinizy went to New York City for the wedding of Battey-Wyant wedding.
In 1946, a party was given for Marion by Mrs. Alfred Battey and Mrs. Roberet Schwab.

March 10, 1946

Miss MARION COLES PHINIZY BECOMES BRIDE OF THOMAS BARTON JONES
LAST EVENING

Marian Coles Phinizy..daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Phinizy became the bride of Mr Thomas Barton Jones in a wedding last evening at 8 pm. The Rev. Hamilton West performed the ceremony. The nuptual music was rendered by Miss Mildred Marston, organist, and Mr Allen Pendleton, vocalist.

The only attendant of the bride was her sister, Miss Mary Porter Phinizy. Her gown was of aqua ____ and lace, the lace bodice (etc) She carried an arm bouquet of jonquils and other yellow flowers tied -with matching satin ribbons.

-The best man was Mr. Ned Jones, brother of the bridegroom. Miss Phinizy who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a gown of ivory satin featuring a yoke of lace embroidered with seed pearls. Seed pearls in an Easter lily pattern decorated the hem of the skirt and the seam design was used on the veil of illusion and the coronet holding it in place. The seed pearl studded lace yoke covered 'the cap sleeves and fell to her elbows. She carried a white prayer book showered with white orchids.' Mrs.' Phinizy chose for her daughter's wedding a triple sheer white floor length gown, -the neckline embroidered with crystal bugle beads o and wore a bouquet of white violets at the waistline. Mrs. Thomas Jones, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in a black-floor .length dress trimmed with gold and' crystal beads. A corsage, of orchids completed her costume.

Before .the bride entered the room,. Mrs. Robert Hay Taylor, of Richmond, Va., Mrs. Robert Schwab, of Atlanta, Miss Allen Cutts, Miss Mimi Battey, Mrs. Albert Von Kamp Gary and Mrs. William Kinney descended the stairs and formed an aisle through which the bridal party passed. The Phinizy home was decorated with smilax and Easter lilies, the stairway was massed with smilax with Easter lilies set at intervals. The entire home was lighted with candles and the vows were spoken before an improvised altar in the living room banked with Easter lilies. The chandelier in the hall held burning white candles. Later in the evening the couple left for a wedding trip. Mrs. Jones changed to a traveling dress of black and white print with which she wore a large Milan straw hat, black accessories, a red fitted top coat and a corsage of orchids.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, of St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Robert Hay Taylor, .of Richmond', Va., Mrs.William Johns, of Richmond, Dr.and Mrs. George Hart, of Columbia, S. C., Mr. and Mrs. Beverley Herbert, of Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Grenville Seibels, Second, of Columbia and Mrs. Robert Schwab of Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Jones is a graduate of Sweetbriar college in Virginia and was recently honorably discharged from the United States Marine Corps Women's Reserve in which she held the rank of First Lieutenant. She was a member of the Spinsters club and the Junior League of Augusta.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Thomas Barton Jones and the late Mr. Jones, of Augusta. He was graduated from Georgia School of Technology and held the rank of Lieutenant Commander in the United States navy before his recent discharge. He is now in business in California where the couple will make their home."

May 18, 1949: "Due to arrive Saturday by plane from Richmond, VA is Mrs. Thomas Barton Jones, Marian Coles, with little Marion Coles Phinzy Jones II for a month's visit. Their hosts of friends are looking forward to welcoming them again and many parties are being planned."

June 28, 1960: "Mrs. Thomas Barton Jones and children, Marion Coles and Phinzy, of Darien, Conn., are visiting Mrs. Jones mother, Mrs. Ferdinand Phinzy, at her home on Milledge Road. Also the guest of Mrs. Phinzy is her granddaughter, Miss Mary Porter Johns of Richmond, VA"

Mac married (1) Verbena BRABHAM.

They had the following children:

149 M i. Leon WALTON was born 1905. He died Feb 1922 in Augusta, Richmond Co., GA and was buried in Ellenton Cemetery, Ellenton, SC.

Augusta Chronicle, August 24, 1921: "Twenty Pound Fish Caught with Line in Savannah River." Since the days of Isaak Walton anglers have been prone to circulate so-called "fish tales" about their art in handling the hook and line, or in modern times the reel. But seeing is believing and here comes one that is true.

"A rockfish, of the bass tribe, weighing (24 ¾ pounds*) was caught out of the Savannah River by LEON WALTON of Ellenton, SC and displayed to local fishermen in front of the Cotton Exchange Monday morning. It is believed that the fish was the largest ever caught in the water of this section with a hook and line. People looked on it with wonder, the angler's mouths running water and the youthful branch fishermen seeing in the fish the monster of many hateful dreams.

"According to Walton, he and William Walton (his father) were fishing with artificial minnows from a boat on that part of the river where Three Rivers Creek empties into it. They were using a line which tested forty pounds when the gigantic bass struck the younger Walton's minnow. It was only after a twenty minute battle that the prize was landed, the heavy line being tested to its capacity. The fish is said to belong to a saltwater variety and had very probably made its way up the Savannah." (Note: on the 25th the newspaper corrected an error they had made in this report that the fish weighed 20 ¾ pounds, to its correct weight as shown above).

Augusta Chronicle, February 2, 1922

"LEON WALTON CLAIMED BY DEATH. Funeral this afternoon at Ellenton, SC.

"The many friends of Leon Walton, the 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Walton of Ellenton, SC will regret to learn of his death which occurred at the University Hospital last night at 7:10 o'clock, after an illness of one day.

"Leon was one of the brightest students at Richmond Academy, entering the institution last fall, during which time he has made a host of friends who mourn with his family in their sad bereavement. He was taken suddenly ill just after his examination at school Tuesday afternoon and was rushed to the hospital, where everything possible was done for him but with no avail, passing away yesterday evening.

"The remains will be shipped to Ellenton, SC this afternoon at 1:45 o'clock, where the funeral services will be conducted at the Ellenton Baptist Church, of which church he was a consistent member, at 3:00 o'clock. Rev. E. H. Clark will officiate, and the interment will occur in the Ellenton cemetery.

"Besides his parents he is survived by a sister, Miss Grace Walton, and a half-brother, George Maxwell Walton, all of Ellenton, SC"

150 F ii. Grace WALTON.

Grace married SUDLOW.

Mac also married (2) Katie GUEST.

Augusta Chronicle, 1935: "Beautiful Party for Miss Crossland in Ellenton, SC: The outstanding social event of the early fall in Ellenton was the linen shower given on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. W. M. Walton and Mrs. F. D. Bush in honor of Miss Blanche Crossland, whose marriage to Mr. Harry Brown will take place October 22nd.

"The reception hall, living room and dining room of Mrs. Walton's lovely bungalow were thrown en suite and artistically decorated with cut flowers in the predomination color tones, pink and white. The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Walton, Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Council Bush and presented to the bride-to-be. After a social hour, a tiny chauffeur clad in white, Master Max Walton, drove in an automobile decorated in pink and white, whose trailer, a huge laundry basket, was laden with lovely fits for Miss Crossland.

"After these had been admired, Mrs. Bush read a wish for the bride from each guest present:

"Misses Lucille Dye and Gladys Bush in white and Grace Walton and Willie Mae Thames in pink served pink and white cream and cake. Miss Jutt Youngblood presided over the bride's register. During the entire afternoon, Misses Grace Walton and Gladys Bush served delicious punch from a bowl embedded in a wreath of pink and white roses and asparagus fern.

"Mrs. Bush wore a handsome gown of black Spanish lace over cloth of gold. Mrs. Walton wore blue canton crepe, embroidered in bronze. Mrs. Council Bush wore sage green crepe romaine. About 75 guests called during the afternoon."

Turner Walton Clanton - died 1941 - Calhoun County, FL

Augusta Chronicle, April 29, 1941: TURNER W. CLANTON CLAIMED BY DEATH. Former Augustan's Funeral To Be Held in Atlanta. Turner Walton Clanton, for many years a resident of Columbia county and recently of Augusta died last night at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Jewel Gainey at Blountstown, FL. Mr. Clanton had been in failing health for some time and died in his sleep after a heart attack suffered a few hours earlier. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed but it is understood interment will be in Atlanta on Wednesday.

Mr. Clanton is survived by his wife, Mrs. Carrie Lou Merry Clanton, of Augusta; a daughter, Mrs. Jewel Gainey of Bountstown, and two granddaughters, Betty and Mary Anne Gainey.

"The deceased was a descendant of distinguished forebears who lived in Augusta and Columbia County. He was a direct descendant of George Walton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. He spent his early life in and around Harlem, GA, and graduated from Emory University at Oxford, GA., where he was a member of the Chi Phi Fraternity. For many years he was prominently identified in the school supply business, having been a partner in the firm Clanton & Webb in Atlanta. In his later years he lived at Evans near here where he played a prominent part in the entire community life, being a teacher of a Bible class in the Methodist Sunday school there. At one time he was head of the Columbia County Agricultural Club and a member of the Columbia County Board of Education. Mr. Clanton owned and operated large farming interests in Columbia County until the failure of his health a few years ago. His passing will be keenly felt by his many friends and relatives throughout the state."

Turner married¹ Carrie Lou MERRY¹ on 27 Oct 1897.

Note: In the Lamkin/Walton Family Bible, she is listed as "Mary Elizabeth Clanton, Sept 26, 189[cut off]"

Augusta Chronicle, October 4, 1926: 'GAINEY-CLANTON. The marriage of Miss Elizabeth CLANTON to Dr. Jewel Guy GAINEY of Hosford, FL was solemnized on Wednesday evening at half after five o'clock at the St. Mark Methodist Church in the presence of a large and representative assembly of friends and relatives. The impressive ceremony was performed by Dr. William G. Quillian, president of Wesleyan College. A lovely program of organ music was rendered by Miss Edna Bartholomew, and Mrs. Reilly Eakin sang two beautiful numbers.

"The spacious church was handsomely decorated, the chancel and front of the church banked in palms in a pyramid effect. The green background was studded with seven-tapered candelabra alternating with floor vases of ascension lilies and white chrysanthemums. The aisle decorations were pink asters and chrysanthemums, making the pews for the family. A delicate tracery of smilax on the side walls in the church completed the decoration.

"The ushers were Ralph G. Newton, Errett (sic) Van Hook, James Dewey Peters and Brian Merry. They entered first followed by the junior bridesmaids, Virginia Merry and Joyce Smith. Their dresses were modish pink and blue georgette respectively, with ruffle and two-tone ribbon trimming. Their flowers were French nosegay bouquets of pink Columbia roses showered in blue.

"The following junior bridesmaids were the matrons of honor: Mrs. Ralph G. Newton and Mrs. Errett Van Hook, in bouffant taffeta dresses fashioned alike and flower and silver ribbon trimmed. Mrs. Newton's gown was pink and Mrs. Van Hook's blue. Their flowers were sheath bouquets of pink Columbia roses showered in violets.

"Miss Ethel Pharr, maid of honor, followed next, in her gown of white taffeta, with tight fitting bodice, bouffant and bustle effect skirt. The appliquéd rose and blue flowers, silver chantilly lace drop the skirt and pastel ribbons added the touch of color and trimming. Her bouquet was pink roses, showered with violets and valley lilies. Little Ruth Cooper was the dainty flower girl in green georgette trimmed in taffeta ruffles and French flowers. She carried a miniature French nosegay of pink flowers.

"The bride entered with her father, Turner Walton Clanton, by whom she was given in marriage. They were joined at the altar by the groom and his best man, Walter Archer. The bride was strikingly lovely in her wedding gown of heavy white satin fashioned with tight fitting bodice and slightly bouffant skirt. The skirt had a front panel of exquisite lace, and the entire costume was elaborately embroidered in pearls in a rose design. The train, embroidered in the same design, was lined with delicate flesh satin. From the becoming headdress of Duehesse and rose point lace and orange blossoms, the filmy flesh tulle veil fell the length of the train. Her flowers were orchids and valley lilies.

"Mrs. Turner Walton Clanton, the bride's mother wore a becoming model of flesh georgette, beaded in pearls and crystal. Her shoulder bouquet was orchids and valley lilies.

"After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Clanton entertained the members of the wedding party, the relatives, and out of town guests at an informal reception at their home on Ninth Street. The house was attractively decorated in South smilax, fern and fall flowers in the yellow shades.

"During the evening Dr. Gainey and his bride left for a wedding trip. They will return to Atlanta for a brief visit before going to Hosford, FL, where they will reside. Mrs. Gainey's going away outfit was crepe back satin, self trimmed in the crepe, in the sable shade of brown, and beaver trimmed coat, with hat and accessories to match.

"Among the out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Gainey, Carlo, GA; Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Newton, Macon, GA; Mr. Walter Archer, Columbia, SC; Mr. James D. Peters, Quincy, FL; Mr. and Mrs. A.M. Merry, and Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Merry, Augusta, GA; Mrs. J. A. Lamkin, Augusta, GA; and Dr. and Mrs. Julian G. Palmer, Opelika, AL.

Augusta Chronicle, August 11, 1957

"Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Jones Walton mark 50th wedding anniversary....

"Lincolnton, GA - The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Jones Walton was celebrated with an afternoon tea recently at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. A. Hammond. Joining Mrs. Hammond in honoring their parents were another daughter, Mrs. Coyle Brown of Elberton, GA., and a son, Mr. Clanton Walton of Augusta.

"Mr. and Mrs. Walton, highly esteemed citizens of Lincoln County, were married July 30, 1907, by the late Rev. G. B. Bush in North Augusta, SC. They are both Columbia County natives, having been reared at Grovetown. Mrs. Walton was before her marriage Miss Dove Turk, daughter of the late Adolphus A. Turk and Hattie Roberts Turk. Mr. Walton's parents are the late Ellis Jones Walton and Millie McClain Walton. Following their marriage they continued to live at Grovetown until December of the same year when they moved to the Salem community where they now reside.

"Mr. and Mrs. Hammond greeted the guests at their home on Goshen Road. The house was decorated in gold and white with arrangements of Eclipse roses, Giant Democracy dahlias and Golden Gate gladioli.

"The guest book was presided over by Mrs. Ralph Barton of Augusta, a granddaughter of the honored couple. A flower arrangement and a set of antique golden wedding bands placed on black velvet decorated the table. A three-tired wedding cake, iced in pastel yellow with decorations of yellow roses and gold wedding bells, was placed on a double ruffle of yellow net which centered the table which was overlaid with a drawn work linen cloth laid over gold.

"Refreshments further carrying out the theme of the celebration were served. Miss Hilda Hammond served punch and others assisting were Miss Connie Hammond and Mrs. Robert Walton of Augusta, and Miss May Coyle Brown and Mr. Bobby Brown of Elberton.

"Presiding in the gift room were Mrs. Clanton Walton and Mrs. Charles Mize, both of Augusta. Other members of the family attending were the great-grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Walton who are Charles and Lisa Mize, Eddie and Frank Barton, and Pam Walton.

"Mrs. Walton wore a slate blue lace dress over taffeta with which she wore a yellow orchid corsage. Between the hours of 3:30 and 5:30 pm, approximately two hundred and fifty guests called to congratulate and renew friendships with the honored guests."

They carried arm bouquets of spring flowers with snapdragons and miniature iris predominating. In their hair they wore a wreath of spring flowers. Miss Hilda Lamkin of Augusta, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown of canary net was fashioned along lines similar to those of the bridesmaids, and she carried a bouquet of yellow snapdragons and miniature orchid iris tied with ribbons matching her dress. Her hair was held with a wreath of the same flowers. The bride was lovely in her wedding dress of ivory satin made with fitted bodice buttoned down the back. The marquise yoke with a petite doll collar was embroidered in seed pearls, and the long, close-fitting sleeves were finished with covered buttons. The full skirt fell into a graceful train. Her two tiered veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a Juliette cap of illusion finished at each side with a cluster of orange blossoms. The veil cascaded the length of her train. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses centered with a cluster of blush sweetheart roses. Groomsmen were Messrs. Marcus and Mitchell Holland, of Cochran, and Mr. Harry Parrish of Augusta, served as the bridegroom's best man. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Evans Community house. The couple are making their home in Evans."

Augusta Chronicle: April 25, 1916: "Officials of Lincoln County Under Whose Administration Prosperity Has Reigned" (portion of this article not applicable to Wm. Cartledge not quoted): Mr. W. M. Cartledge has held the office of Clerk of Superior Court since his esteemed father died several years ago. He is attentive to the duties of the office, and it has been often said that he keeps the office open and sticks to his desk more than many of the clerks of superior courts in counties where the business is greater in volume than in Lincoln. Lawyers say they can do business with the clerk's office more expeditiously than with many others in which their practice leads them."

218 M iv. Jesse Mercer CARTLEDGE was born 1901 in Lincoln County, GA. He died 2 Jun 1923 in Lincolnton, GA.

Augusta Chronicle: There are two sad news items about young Jesse Cartledge.....one about his accidental wounding while hunting, and his death 8 years later.

November 29, 1914: "FATALLY SHOT. Young JESSE CARTLEDGE Accidentally Shot Near Lincolnton by his Uncle, Martin Mims. Lincolnton, GA, Nov 28: While hunting on Thanksgiving Day, Jesse Cartledge was shot by Martin Mims and will probably die. The Cartledge boy is just thirteen years old. Mr. Mims is his uncle. They were hunting in the outskirts of the town of Lincolnton and Mr. Mims was trying to shoot a rabbit when the entire load of his gun struck the boy. Physicians attending the lad say there is little hope for his recovery. Young Cartledge comes of game stock, as the expression goes, and cracks jokes even in his critical condition. One of his ancestors stood up in duel with William H. Crawford. His playmates glory in his punk and say that if anybody can "live it out" Jesse will do it."

June 6, 1923: "JESSE CARTLEDGE IS BURIED IN LINCOLNTON. Died Saturday from Paralysis. Lincolnton, GA, June 6 - One of the saddest funerals that has ever taken place in Lincoln County occurred Sunday, June 3rd, when Mr. Jesse Cartledge, who had died Saturday, was laid to rest in the cemetery in Lincolnton. The funeral took place from the Baptist Church, Dr. W. A. Hogan, the pastor, officiating.

Mr. Cartledge was the son of the late W. M. Cartledge, who for many years had been Clerk of Superior Court of Lincoln County, and for the past generation was one of the strongest political figures in this section. He was only 21 years of age, but despite his age had been for the past four years an invalid suffering from paralysis, and although confined to his bed, had been noted for his sunny disposition and keen intellect in a number of hospital in which he was treated.

"He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Lula Cartledge, and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. J. M. Reese, of Modoc, SC; Mrs. C.C. Bennett, of Jacksonville, FL; the Misses Marjorie Cartledge, Sarah Cartledge, Isabelle Cartledge, and Julia Cartledge; Messrs. Lamar Cartledge, William Cartledge and James Walton Cartledge, of Alabama."
